

... The Personal Data Protection Bill - in final stages now ...

Arun Sundar
Associate Director

“ Sensitive personal information is susceptible to cyber threats. We look forward to the enactment of this bill and as the central government gives its final touches to the same, we believe that this is a good time for organizations in India to proactively re-engineer their data protection measures in consonance with the data protection bill in the current form. ”